

Workshop Speaker

Dr. John Fry

John is a psychologist in private practice for over 30 years. He has given over 400 stress seminars to, among others, IBM, NBC, Farmers Insurance, The US Navy, and the faculty of Fuller Seminary. He has served as an elder here at St. Andrew's. His website is www.drjohnfry.com

Over 16,000 adults have gone through the DRW since it was created by Dr. Bill Flanagan who came to St. Andrews in 1981. John went through this workshop for himself and afterwards volunteered as a small group facilitator for 14 workshops. Dr. Flanagan asked John to take over his role in 2009.

In these helpful talks Dr. Fry integrates tools you can use that work from psychology research, his own experience of divorce, and working with scores of men and women in his practice who want to heal and grow through their own divorce.

The Workshop Team

We are a team of over 40 folks who have grown through our own divorce by going through DRW, been screened, and received specialized training. We do this pro bono because of gratitude for how this wonderful program helped us! Adult attendance for the last dozen workshops has ranged from 65 to 125 with several dozen children and teens in their workshops as well.

PREVIOUS ATTENDEES ON THE DIVORCE RECOVERY WORKSHOP:

"The program was immensely helpful. Since separating I had done a lot of internal work, reading, etc., but I felt stuck. The camaraderie of DRW really helped me push through the final obstacles." --Andrea L.

"After an 18 year marriage ended in divorce, I was lost. I am so thankful that I found and attended the DRW. The lectures and small group were so healing for me." --Frank F.

"DRW has been a life changing experience for me. I thought I had to figure out my divorce on my own. My confidence got renewed. Being surrounded by a caring community was heaven-sent." --Patty F.

"I was 49, married for twenty years with two children. I was totally caught off guard when my wife asked for a divorce. I became miserable and depressed. The workshop literally saved my life. It was a safe, reassuring environment to make new friends and get my life moving forward. My daughter totally enjoyed the Teen Workshop." --Dale G.

"I was blessed in ways I never thought possible. Five short weeks after my husband left me and our 4 kids after a 26 year relationship, I found healing, hope, understanding, and new friendships." --Cindy L.

"I always felt so safe when I went there." --Helena P.

"The DRW helped me grow through my own divorce rather than be defeated by it. Since then I have seen many clients I've referred from my counseling practice get the same tremendous benefits that I did." --John F.

"My world was turned upside down and chaos had set in. DRW helped me realize I was not alone! I learned practical tools for how to live my new everyday life, for acceptance, for forgiveness, and for looking forward with hope." --Shelley C.

Growing Through Divorce

Last year approximately 25,000 people in Orange County experienced the dissolution of marriage. The failure rate for first marriages is about 50%, while 65% of second marriages end in divorce. In our workshop, we will be using the book "Growing Through Divorce" by Jim Smoke. Jim has said, "You can go through divorce or you can grow through divorce".

No matter where you are in your divorce experience, you'll find the session topics, small groups, support and understanding of others "growing through divorce" to be of tremendous help in your journey through one of life's most difficult adjustments

This workshop, offered semi-annually, has attracted over 16,000 since 1981. It is the largest seminar of its kind in Southern California, is a model for divorce recovery programs all over the world, and is designed for people facing the finality of divorce rather than the possibility of reconciliation.
